

“Budapest will now become the headquarters of our movement”

Freud, 1918

28 September 2018 will mark the 100th anniversary of the 5th International Psychoanalytic Congress, which was held on 28–29 September 1918 at the Hungarian Academy of Sciences and was attended by Sigmund Freud and other members of the psychoanalytic movement who eventually achieved greatness themselves. Organized toward the end of the First World War, the Congress focused on war trauma and options for treatment, themes represented by Sándor Ferenczi and Karl Abraham. The fact that high-ranking military officials from the Austro-Hungarian Empire also participated was an indication of how seriously this matter was taken at the time. Indeed, a plan was soon developed to open hospital wards to provide psychological treatment for those affected by war trauma. This was the point when psychoanalysis moved beyond private practice to serve the broader society, and – after Sándor Ferenczi was appointed professor of psychoanalysis in 1919 – it also became part of standard medical education. With the participation of Austrian and Hungarian scholars, the Centennial Conference will form a bridge between previous and current theoretical and therapeutic approaches, highlighting the question of war trauma, the intense reciprocal effect between psychoanalysis and the arts, and the current place of psychoanalysis in healing and in the history of science.

Psychoanalysis and Society

– Then and Now –

Centennial Conference 1918 – 2018
Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Main Building
1051 Budapest, Széchenyi István tér 9.
28 September 2018
Sándor Ferenczi Society

Conference programme – HAS, Great Lecture Hall

Opening: 9.00 – 9.30 a.m. / Moderator: Judit Mészáros

Csaba Pléh	Fellow, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, and Distinguished Visiting Professor, Central European University
Alexandra Szalay-Bobrovniczky	Deputy Mayor, Budapest
Valéria Csépe	Fellow, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, and Chair, Hungarian Accreditation Committee
Zsuzsa Lőrincz	President, Hungarian Psychoanalytical Society
János Harmatta	Founding Member, Sándor Ferenczi Society, and Honorary President, Hungarian Psychiatric Association

Panel: 9.30 – 11.00 a.m. / Moderator: János Harmatta

Judit Mészáros, Training Analyst, Hungarian Psychoanalytical Society, Professor Honoris Causa, Eötvös Loránd University, and President, Sándor Ferenczi Society	“Budapest will now become the headquarters of our movement” (Freud, 1918)
Thomas Aichhorn Psychoanalyst and Archivist, Vienna Psychoanalytic Society, IPA	The “Viennese Psychoanalytic Pedagogy” as an application of psychoanalysis beyond private practice

Coffee break: 11.00 – 11.30 a.m.

Panel: 11.30 a.m. – 1.00 p.m. / Moderator: Csaba Pléh

Ferenc Erős, D.Sc., Professor Emeritus, Institute of Psychology, University of Pécs	War as “natural experiment”: Ferenczi, Freud and other psychoanalysts in World War I and thereafter
Tibor Balla, D.Sc., Lieutenant Colonel, Military Historian, Military History Institute, Budapest	The army’s psyche is as right as rain: Austro-Hungarian soldiers in the Great War and psychological war traumas
Szabolcs Kéri, D.Sc., Professor, Budapest University of Technology and Economics and Semmelweis University	The resolution of mimetic desire via religious conversion in war-traumatized refugees

Lunch break: 1.00 – 2.30 p.m.

Panel: 2.30 – 4.00 p.m. / Moderator: Antal Bókay

Gergely Barki, Art Historian, Ferenczy Museum Centre, Szentendre	Róbert Berény, a painter psychoanalyst?
Andrea Bronner, M.D., Psychiatrist and Psychoanalyst, Vienna Psychoanalytic Society, IPA	Austrian participants at the 5 th International Psychoanalytic Congress in Budapest
Elizabeth Ann Danto (Vienna) Professor Emerita, Hunter College/ City University of New York	“We will now start our psychotherapy for the people.” – Achieving Freud’s mandate of September 1918

Coffee break: 4.00 – 4.15 p.m.

Panel: 4.15 – 6.15 p.m. / Moderator: Péter Dávidházi, Fellow, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Prof. Emeritus, Literary Historian

Csaba Pléh, Fellow, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, and Distinguished Visiting Professor, Central European University, Budapest	The fate and context of love in psychoanalysis: The new Freudian readings of Kandel and Roudinesco
Alexandra Strauss, Art and Cultural Historian, Vienna	Anna Freud and “The Conscience of Society”: Introduction and video film presentation
Eszter Molnár Literary Historian, Petőfi Literary Museum, Budapest	The prehistory of Géza Csáth’s The Psychological Mechanisms of Mental Diseases
Antal Bókay, Professor, Dept. of Literary History and Theoretical Psychoanalysis Doctoral Programme, University of Pécs	Literature and language in Ferenczi’s psychoanalytic thinking

The conference is in Hungarian and English with simultaneous interpretation. The conference was organised by the Sándor Ferenczi Society, which is celebrating the 30th anniversary of its founding. Conference programme and organizing committee: János Harmatta, Judit Mészáros, Csaba Pléh. Patrons: The Hungarian Academy of Sciences and the Austrian Cultural Forum. Attendance at the conference is free, but registration is required.

osztrák kulturális fórum bud

V. Internationaler Psychoanalytischer Kongress in Budapest 1918.

Allgemeines:

Der für den 21. und 22. September nach Breslau einberufene psychoanalytische Kongress kann wegen Verkehrs- und Verpflegungsschwierigkeiten nicht in Deutschland stattfinden. Infolgedessen hat sich das unterzeichnete vorbereitende Komitee dahin geeinigt, dass der V. internationale psychoanalytische Kongress in Budapest abgehalten wird.

Als Kongresstage sind der 28. und 29. September 1918 bestimmt worden.

Anmeldungen wollen sofort an Dr. S. Ferenczi, in Budapest, Hotel Royal, woselbst der Kongress auch abgehalten wird, gerichtet werden.

Auswärtige Teilnehmer werden insbesondere aufmerksam gemacht, sich im Interesse rechtzeitiger Wohnungsbeschaffung umgehend bei Dr. Ferenczi an obiger Adresse anzumelden.

Programm:

Der Kongress wird Fragen der Vereins-Organisation, der wissenschaftlichen Propaganda und des Ausbaues der Vereinszeitschrift beraten.

Für die wissenschaftlichen Sitzungen wurden folgende Vorträge angemeldet:

Dr. Karl Abraham, Militärarzt (dzt. Allenstein, Ostpreussen): Titel noch nicht feststehend.	Pfarrer Dr. Oskar Pfister (Zürich): Die primitiven Grundlagen der höchsten Gefühle.
Dr. van Emden (Haag, Holland): Analyse einer Sensation am Kopfe im Traum	Dr. Otto Rank: Mythus und Märchen.
K. u. Regimentsarzt Dr. S. Ferenczi (Budapest): Die Kriegsneurosen u. ihre Psychoanalyse. (Referat mit anschließender Diskussion).	Dr. Theodor Reik (dzt. im Felde): Psychoanalytische Studien zur Bibel-exegese III.
Univ. Prof. Dr. S. Freud (Wien): Zur Analyse der Homosexualität.	Dr. Géza Roheim (Budapest): Das Selbst. Eine völkerpsychologische Studie.
Dr. Marton Jellinek (Budapest): Über die Freundschaft. Ethnologische Studie.	Dr. I. Sadger (Wien): Neue Forschungen zum Kastrations-Komplex.
Dr. van Ophuysen (Haag, Holland): Die Frigidität des Weibes.	K. u. k. Oberarzt Dr. Victor Jausk (dzt. Belgrad): Psychoanalyse der Urteilsfunktion.

Das vorbereitende Komitee.